

HIGH HOPES
HEAD INJURY PROGRAM

High Hopes is a local nationally recognized program dedicated to helping the brain injured regain abilities thought lost forever due to their accidents.

In 1975 the dreams of several families gave birth to High Hopes. High Hopes is one of a kind non-profit organization dedicated to the rehabilitation and retraining of loved ones who had been devastated by traumatic brain injuries.

These injuries have been caused mostly by automobile, motorcycle falls, and other related accidents. More than 50,000 victims have been left with major physical and cognitive impairments. High Hopes is a unique one of a kind program, celebrating 35 years of helping hundreds of deserving people regain their lives.

A conservative estimate of brain injuries sustained annually in the United States is two million and the projected life time cost is over $7 million per survivor. Obviously most people do not have the funds to provide rehabilitation and care for their loved ones. Insurance runs out early and families are left without hope.

That is where High Hopes fills the void. High Hopes provides the necessary rehabilitation to each person who attends, and does not give up on anyone. Rather than giving up we work to find a solution for each individual. High Hopes is where families, staff, volunteers, and brain injured victims all work together to achieve results. High Hopes has one of the highest success rates in the world.
